

Letters from Dorothy

Adventures in the U.S. Foreign Service 1926-1934

ISBN 978-0-9722704-6-5
LCCN 2024915719

Witness the dawn of a global era through the eyes of Dorothy Farrant. Leaving the industrial backdrop of Ware, Massachusetts, this 1925 graduate and skilled typist answered a call to history, joining the US Diplomatic Team for the Sixth Pan-American Conference in Cuba. Her subsequent Foreign Service career took her across the world, a stark contrast to her humble beginnings. This 200-page hardcover memoir, featuring Dorothy's letters and photographs from 100 years ago, offers a unique window into a time of Depression-era challenges and personal triumph. Compiled and narrated by her son Michael Blackledge, pre-order now and receive a discount before the April 2025 publication. Your satisfaction is assured.

Readers will find in Dorothy both a tremendously likeable young woman with every day cares about clothes, beaux and, of course, money (it was the Great Depression, after all) —and an admirably ambitious striver who, in her quest to “make good,” travels the globe as a secretary in the U.S. Foreign Service, navigating shipwrecks, ski slopes, and high society galas with equal aplomb. - Carla Genoni, Editor and Educator
